

Virtual Events with love from CARE x

Thank you for registering for our Virtual Event!

Our online information event has been designed to give you information about CARE, as well as:

- an IVF journey
- our tests and treatments
- how we will support you
- starting your fertility journey

What to expect in CARE's online information event

The event will be hosted by Dr Alison Campbell, our Group Director of Embryology. You'll also hear from our Group Clinical Director, our Enquiry Team Leader, our CEO, and former CARE patients as we share information about CARE, including about our clinics, our teams, and how we'll do everything possible to give you your very best chance of having a baby.

You will have the opportunity to ask your questions live to Dr Campbell, and we will share with you information to download so you can learn about CARE and our treatments in more detail at home.

You will have the option to use a 'Chat' feature, or you can send questions directly to our team using the 'Questions' tab. If you use the 'Chat' feature, the first name you used to register for the event will be visible to everyone watching. If you use the 'Questions' tab, only Dr Campbell will be able to see your first name, and we won't read out the names of people asking questions.

If you would prefer to ask us your questions in advance instead of during the event, please send your questions to events@carefertility.com and we will answer them live during the event.

Personal data and our online information event platform

CARE's online information events are powered by a third-party webinar platform, Livestorm. We take our responsibilities for your personal data very seriously, and will never share any of your personal data outside of CARE. Any information you share before or during our online information event, such as your questions, will be held and used solely for the purposes listed in our Privacy Policy.

The limited personal information you used to register for this event will be stored by Livestorm, as explained in the mandatory consent field related to Livestorm's terms and privacy policy when you registered. You can read more about how Livestorm processes and protects your information in their Data Protection Policy.

“The team at CARE were unbelievable. They were caring, they were sensitive, compassionate, empathetic. They honestly do hold your hand at every single step of the way, and I feel like they lived the journey with us.”

Sarah, a CARE Nottingham Mum

We look forward to welcoming you to our Virtual Event and helping you to take your next step on your journey to having a baby.
